

Re: Mr Stephen Allen

I have had rheumatoid arthritis for 17 years and during that time I have been under the specialist at the hospital. I was taking Methotrexate (medication taken once a week) and Naprosyn (an anti-inflammatory two tablet four times a day). My specialist did not have a problem with me trying alternate medicine, although he was sceptical.

Over the years I have tried a variety of alternative medicine, but unfortunately with very limited effect until I went to Stephen Allen.

Prior to treatment from Mr Allen I was in constant pain and unable to walk very far at all. All my joints were swollen and my mobility was impaired to some degree.

Since my treatment with Mr Allen started my health has improved greatly and my quality of life is much better. I now only take one Naprosyn a day and my weekly Methotrexate .

Mr Allen has only completed about 50% of what he can achieve for me, with still plenty more he can do to improve my life. I hope I can continue to benefit from Mr Allen's treatment on a consistent basis.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs L
