

Mutism

Paediatric Treatment for 6 year old who has been diagnosed with Mutism

Since the treatment Jake has been very happy, relaxed, much louder in general. When we went to k's house at the weekend they all commented on his much he was talking. This is family he sees weekly so it will be interesting how he is on Thursday when he is visiting another Grandmother that he sees a lot less of. He has been asking questions about what you were doing and said he felt something moving and felt he was bursting! I explained that you are trying to help him with his talking and helping him to feel braver and he is quite happy about that. We also measured him that afternoon after the treatment and again tonight and he has grown approximately one inch already.

Also, I suggested to Jakes teacher that they try using his walkie talkies which he took in last Friday. He went around the corner and the teacher said hello to the friend and he answered hello mrs H and then she did the same with Jake and he did the same! She went on to ask him some maths questions which he answered. This was the first time he has been able to talk to a teacher within the school environment. His teacher was so pleased and jake was also happy with himself. She told him to bring them in anytime he wants so I've put them in his book bag today and think there are so many ways the could be used.

Thought you would like to know a new step he has achieved!
